

Introducing

Starfactant™

It's a brand new day for wetting with defoaming.

Our breakthrough STAR™ chemistry is now available to improve wetting on difficult substrates and defoam.

Wetting or defoaming? It used to be a trade-off. No longer. Our new STARFACTANT™ wetting agents offer formulating latitude. Because they work on a molecular level, they improve wetting while they defoam. No more balancing act. No more having to juggle multiple products to get the formulation performance you want.

Maybe you've heard this before about other products. But when you see our data and sample panels, you'll understand.

Others promise. STARFACTANT™ performs.

It's the one that works.
